

At The Big Salad, it's not about the race to thousands of stores – It's about establishing solid relationships with solid people.

We're less concerned with getting stores up quickly, than we are with getting the right stores open with the right ownership in place.

MIGHT THAT BE YOU?

The Big Salad was born with a goal to provide the freshest product possible, with great customer service, in an enjoyable, comfortable and impeccably clean atmosphere. We are not about serving average food in a rushed, impersonal environment.

We recognized that our menu had to be desirable in every region of the country. That was easy – as the demand for quality, freshness and taste is universal.

We also acknowledge that a welcoming setting would be part of the appeal of The Big Salad. Indeed we've found that guests keep coming back for more than just the great food. They visit multiple times per week because they feel at home when they stop by.

If you'd like to explore possibilities of becoming a franchise owner, let us hear from you!

Considering a Big Salad Franchise...

Is A Franchise Right For You?

If you want to be your own boss but want the security of proven practices working for you, then a franchise might be right for you.

If you feel your current job and hard work are rewarding only for someone else, then a franchise might be right for you.

If the worthless 3 o'clock status meeting prevents you from enjoying life's occasional special moments, then a franchise might be right for you.

If you don't want to start a business from scratch and worry about costly mistakes during your learning curve, then a franchise might be right for you.

But There Are Countless Franchises...

Why The Big Salad?

Because people want to eat healthier, and because people are on-the-go, The Big Salad provides a healthy alternative to traditional fast-food.

A Big Salad Franchise Offers:

- Simplicity
 - Low start-up costs
 - Proven systems for running your business
 - Web-based technology that allows you to monitor your location(s) and business activity from anywhere.
 - A turn-key opportunity that provides site selection, training, build-out and marketing.
- All you'll need are the keys we hand you.

We are right for each other if...

You want to represent a quality product with proven systems.

You want to be in the food business without the hassles of cooks, ovens and insane hours.

You see yourself as part of an organization interested in solid growth with solid relationships as opposed to frantic activity with startups and closures.

You believe in the strength and synergy of a solid brand built on quality, cleanliness and hospitality.

You want to take advantage of today's healthy living choices and be a part of improving the quality of people's lifestyles.
